New Library Nearing Completion

NEWEST BUILDING ON LYCOMING COLLEGE CAMPUS

Perfect skies form a backdrop for the John W. Long Library at Lycoming College which will be opened for student use this Fall. The new building is named for the president of the college.

Commencement Activities

Lycoming College graduated its third class from the four-year college on Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the one-hundred and third annual commencement exercises of the institution.

Highlight of the precommencement activities was reached Saturday, June 2, when Robert F. Rich, president of the Board of Directors announced that the Board had voted unanimously to name the new library building in honor of Dr. John W. Long, who has served for 30 years as president of the college. Former Congressman Rich emphasized the role Dr. Long has played through the years in bringing the college to its present four-year level.

Students, alumni, and faculty members spontaneously applauded the announcement by Mr. Rich.

At 10:00 a.m., Saturday morning, the Senior Class Day exercises were held in the Clarke Building.

Shirley Williams, Sara McGarvey, and Harvey A. Hartman, all of Williamsport, were awarded the top honors from the school.

Miss Williams received the coveted faculty prize, considered the highest honor accorded to a graduating senior. It takes into account the student's contribution to the school, as well as academic work.

Miss McGarvey and Mr. Hartman were named to the Sachem, select academic honor group established this year. Hartman became the first underclassman to gain such recognition by maintaining a 2.7 average for his first three years.

Other activities of the day included a meeting of the Board of Directors, a faculty-senior baseball game, captured by the seniors, an alumni luncheon which was very well attended, an alumni association meeting, unveiling of plaques, and a concert by the college band.

The Reverend Benjamin F. Allgood, D.D., '20, who is Director of Advance and Special Gifts, Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Church, delivered the main address at the Alumni Banquet, Saturday evening. At this meeting, the members of the graduating class were admitted into the Alumni Association.

Activities of the day were concluded with the formal spring concert by the a cappella choir of the college.

The procession to the Baccalaureate Service in Pine Street Methodist Church began at 10:30 Sunday morning, June 3 The Rev. Mr. Allgood, '20, was again the speaker. He is a former Williamsport resident who entered the ministry from the Pine Street Methodist Church. He is a graduate of Dickinson Seminary and continued his studies at the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University. Previous to his present ap-

The President's Message

A difficult situation confronts the college beginning with the opening September 17 next. On another page there is a brief article which undertakes to estimate the situation for Liberal Arts Colleges during the next few years. I hope you will read that carefully.

Since the war Lycoming College has made progress which has been equalled by very few other institutions but uncertain world conditions and the attempt to build up a strong defense program on the part of our government has made the future of young people, so far as their college education is concerned, very uncertain and Lycoming College will be affected unfavorably as well as other institutions.

The enrollment at the present time is only slightly below that of last year but we cannot tell how many former students will return.

You can do your college a most important service by thinking of the young people in your circle — church, service clubs, or other organizations and directing any who have not yet made their college choice for the coming year, to Lycoming College.

No other college can offer better living conditions for girl students than we have in Rich Hall. Our curriculum is varied and full. I ought not to take time to enumerate the various curricula here now but you can feel safe in directing young people to Lycoming. Will you please "now" see whether there are any young people whom you can direct to Lycoming for the coming year and send us their names. Please act promptly. Let me thank you.

Faithfully yours,

JOHN W. LONG, President

pointment he served five years as the District Superintendent of the Camden District, New Jersey Conference of the Methodist Church. He delivered an inspiring message on the subject "The Measure of Our Faith."

The graduating exercises, which were being held outdoors in flag court for the first time, started at 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon with the traditional parade across the athletic field beneath sunny skies. After the Rev. Lawrence Lykens, pastor of the Montoursville Methodist Church, had given the opening prayer, Dr. John W. Long, president, introduced the graduating honor students.

Miss Sara E. McGarvey, of Williamsport was graduated magna cum laude; and six seniors, Francis F. Carducci, Vincent R. A. Crouse, Rhoda Pontz Hevner, Raymond A. Overdurf and Shirley Williams, of Williamsport, and Ralph Schneider, Bronx, N. Y. were graduated cum laude.

Dr. Long introduced the speaker, the Reverend Alexander K. Smith, D.D., Superintendent, South District, Phidadelphia Conference of the Methodist Church, who spoke on the subject "Who Lifts His Mind to Such a Height."

Sudden rain and wind whipping across the campus interrupted the commencement address being delivered by The Rev. Dr. Smith, but the speaker resumed after graduates and friends had seated themselves in Clarke Chapel.

Dr. Smith contrasted the utilitarian theory of how far one can go with the more important idea of the proper dedication of the mind of the individual. Dr. Smith went on to explain how the liberal arts college helps prepare its students for this proper dedication of mind and sound direction, by stating four principles of a liberal arts education.

"Observation, calculation, experimentation and application," he said, advances the student beyond the purely utilitarian values of life. In applying what he had said, Dr. Smith remarked that a man who understands history is not overcome by futulity, but rather lifts his mind up to better things. "No man who correctly reads history can ever despair the future." Dr. Smith added, quoting the English historian Macauley. Such a mind, he went on, "is commanded by the authenticity of the centuries and not the confusion of contemporaries."

Men possessing this understanding will not only enjoy personal integrity, but also be contributors to their republic, he added.

The man who makes his contribution is a part of a high religion, Dr. Smith concluded. Education without this high religion can be only cleverness, he added, charging the assembled seniors and terminal students to gird themselves with high religion.

Dr. Long, assisted by Academic Dean, William S. Hoffman and Director of Admissions, G. Heil Gramley, conferred degrees on one hundred and nine seniors (sixty-six received the Bachelor of Arts degree and forty-three received the Bachelor of Science degree). This list includes those students who completed their undergraduate work since last June, embracing summer session graduates and February graduates, as well as those completing their work the last semester. Eighteen terminal students were awarded two year certificates.

Mrs. Mary Landon Russell, assistant professor of piano and organ, supplied the organ music for the processional and recessional and the a cappella choir, directed by Walter G. McIver, associate professor of voice, offered the choir anthems.

The benediction was given by the Rev. Ralph W. Wott, pastor of the Hamden Methodist Church, Baltimore, Maryland, and father of one of the graduates, Lucille Wott Smead.

Two New Members Elected to Board of Directors

At the annual meeting of the Board of Directors, held in the the Girls' Day Room of Rich Hall, Saturday, June 2, beginning at 10:00 a.m., the election of two new directors, Mr. Carl F. Stroehmann, President of the Stroehmann Baking Company and Mr. Paul Gilmore, Editor of the Williamsport Sun, was announced by Reverend Ralph Krouse who cast the vote for the Preachers' Aid Society. These are two strong representative men in Williamsport and will add strength to our Board of Directors.

Annual Alumni Meeting

At the annual Alumni Meeting held in Clarke Building, June 2, 1951, the following were elected officers for the coming year:

President, Dr. Amos B. Horlacher, Carlisle, Pa.

Vice President, W. Russell Zacharias, Allentown, Pa.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. William N. Hunter, Williamsport, Pa.

Corresponding Secretary, Miss Sarah E. Lehman, Williamsport, Pa.

Treasurer, Mrs. Samuel Hutchison, Jr., Williamsport, Pa.

The following were elected to serve on the Board for three years, their term expiring in 1954:

Richard T. Todhunter, Jr., ex-'25, Barnesboro, Pa.

Rev. Frank W. Ake, ex-'27, Woolrich, Pa.

Rev. Lawrence W. Lykens, '39, Montoursville, Pa.

Miss Bernardine A. Decker, '23, Montgomery, Pa.

W. Elbridge Brown, '13, Clearfield, Pa.

The Class of 1951 elected Vincent Crouse of Williamsport, Pa., as their representative.

National Affiliation

Lamba Phi Delta, men's social fraternity at Lycoming College received word, June 6, 1951, of its acceptance with Lamba Chi Alpha, national fraternity. College members and alumni will be initiated next fall, when the local chapter becomes one of the 138 national chapters.

A son (David Richard) was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Still (Marjorie Bates), July 7, 1951. They are residing at San Bernardino, California.

Plaques Unveiled

A feature of Alumni Day and Commencement activities on Saturday, June 2, was the unveiling of several plaques as follows:

Two plaques were unveiled in the main lobby of Rich Hall. The one reads as follows:

RICH HALL
Named in honor of The Rich Family
of Woolrich, Pa.
Loyal Patrons and generous benefactors
of this institution

The other indicates the name of the building, the date of erection, 1948, the name of the president of the college, the president of the Board of Directors, the members of the building committee, the architect and the contractor.

Another plaque was unveiled in the day room of Rich Hall which reads:

Sara A. Walter Memorial Room.

The plaque in honor of Miss Martha B. Clarke originally placed in the old chapel was transferred to the narthex of the new chapel. This was very appropriate since it was the money made available through the will of Miss Clarke which was largely responsible for the Clarke Building.

On one end of a pew in the Clarke Memorial Chapel a plaque was placed, reading:

In Memoriam — Peaslee

A plaque on the front of one of the pillars of the Metzler Memorial gate was changed to read:

LYCOMING COLLEGE

instead of Williamsport Dickinson Junior College.

The final plaque unveiled was

Lundy Memorial Studio

in honor of the Lundys who gave the money for the installation of the broadcasting studio.

The plaques were all unveiled by Julia, Sheridan, and Cynthia Bell, daughters and son of The Rev. and Mrs. Sheridan Bell, of Harrisburg, Pa. Mrs. Bell was formerly Miss Elizabeth Rich of the Class of 1928 and daughter of Honorable and Mrs. Robert F. Rich.

Methodist Educational Foundation

A meeting was held at the Methodist Building in Washington, March 6, 1951, attended by the presidents and representatives of the three Methodist Colleges in Pennsylvania at which time consideration was given to the establishment of an educational foundation which has for its aim the promotion on a state-wide basis of financial help through the churches. The goal established by the general conference of 1948 is a contribution of 50c each from every member of the church within the State. A second meeting of this group was held in Carlisle, May 3, and action was taken at the recent annual session of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, held at Pine Street Church, endorsing the idea. Bishop Wicke of the Pittsburgh area and Bishop Corson of the Philadelphia area, together with Bishop Flint of the Washington area attended the first meeting and gave to that extent at least their endorsement of the plan. This matter will be studied further in the hope that such an organization can be created and used in the interest of Methodist educational institutions in Pennsylvania.

Richard W. Wolf Resigns Position For Music Career

Richard W. Wolf, publicity director, resigned his position, effective June 7, 1951. He is presently working in New York City to further his music career.

A graduate of the class of 1950 from Lycoming, Mr. Wolf is well known for his student musicals: "Student Life" in 1949; "Sidney Goes to College" in 1950; and "The Good Old Days," this year. Music from this year's show has been published by Broadcast Music Incorporated of New York.

Mr. G. Heil Gramley and his family are established in their new quarters on the first floor of the west wing of the Old Main building. These quarters were formerly occupied by the presidents of the institution until 1940 when the present residence was built and later by the Felix family.

Estimates of Higher Education Enrollments

Estimates of Higher Education Enrollments over the period 1950-51 through 1954-55 have been released by the Office of Education. During the current academic year full-time male undergraduate enrollments are expected to total 1,059,000. This year it is estimated that 274,700 males will complete their four-year courses and graduate. In 1951-52, enrollments will decrease to 844,800 with 205,300 graduating. In 1952-53, 757,600 undergraduate males will be enrolled and 202,200 will graduate. In 1953-54, there will be 719,500 such enrollees and 178,000 graduating. The low will be reached in 1954-55 when 690,200 will enroll and 166,900 will graduate. After 1954-55 an upturn in male enrollments is expected.

Lycoming College needs the loyal support of all alumni and friends at the present time and especially for the next few years so that the full quantity of young people attending college may enjoy the privileges offered at Lycoming.

Fire Towers

For some years safety has been a matter of a great deal of concern to our directors and administration as well as the faculty and student body. It was decided finally to erect two towers at the east and west ends of the middle section of Old Main building to take the place of present stairways.

Mr. Clarence Wagner, architect, prepared the plans. Jacob Gehron and Sons were awarded the contract and are now erecting the stairways to be completed before the opening of college next September.

This will add greatly to the safety of students in Old Main building and is a part of the complete remodeling of Old Main building which was started a few years ago with important changes both on the first and second floors.

Deaths

Warren L. Brindle, Jr., Lewistown, Pa., a former student at Lycoming College (1947-49) was one of three men killed in a recent explosion at American Viscose Corporation plant in Lewistown.

Mrs. Wellington B. Clark passed away February 21, 1951.

D. S. Lockhead, Weir City, Kansas.

Summer Groups at Lycoming

The Methodist Youth Caravan trained at Lycoming from June 19 to 29. This is the seventh summer that Lycoming has been selected as a Methodist Church training center for the student caravan program. The purpose of the program is to help revitalize and strengthen the youth program of local churches and communities. Each youth team is composed of four persons and a counselor and will work in the annual conference to which it is assigned for seven weeks.

This year there were thirty-five young men and women from 18 states and ten counselors present. States represented included Oregon, Texas, Oklahoma and Tennessee. Thirty different colleges also were represented. Each student qualifying for caravaning has had two years of college or the equivalent.

Carrie Barge House Party—Girls School of Missions, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Central Pennsylvania Conference was held at Lycoming from July 1 to July 8. Mrs. William R. Malone of New Cumberland, Pa. was dean and Mrs. Fred Gorman, Altoona District Secretary of Youth Work acted as Assistant Dean. The Registrar was Miss Jean Puch of Harrisburg and the Treasurer was Mrs. Robert Croyle of Clearfield. Faculty members were: Bible — The Rev. Edwin A. Ross, Baltimore, Maryland; Missionary Education in M.Y.F., — Mrs. Charles Sayre, Trenton, New Jersey; Vocations—Mrs. Carroll D. Champlin, State College, Pa.; Youth Problems — "The High Cost of Low Living" —Mrs. J. Howard Ake, Berwick, Pa.; Morning Watch and Vespers — Miss Jean Maxwell, Williamsport, Pa.; Recreation—Miss Doris Hoover, Scarritt College, Nashville, Tenn.; Music—Mrs. Marion Douglas, Hollidaysburg, Pa.; Crafts—Mrs. Thomas I. Henshey, Altoona, Pa.; The Communion service Saturday evening was in charge of Rev. Henry Hopkins of Riverside, Pa., and the Sunday morning sermon in Pine Street Church was given by Rev. Kenneth Rose of Lewisburg, Pa. There were over 200 in attendance.

Methodist Summer Assembly was held at the college from July 8 to 13. This included the Pastors School, W.S.C.S. Fellowship Week and The Christian Workers School. Lectures were delivered by Dr. Richard W. Miller, Director of Student Relations, Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Illinois; Dr. N. F. Forsyth, Associate Secretary, Division of the Local Church, Board of Education of the Methodist Church, Nashville, Tennessee; and Dr. Thomas S. Kepler, Professor of New Testament, Graduate School of Theology, Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio; Dr. H. Neil Richardson, Dept. Bible and Religion, Syracuse University.

Wesleyan Service Guild met Saturday, July 14, and Sunday, July 15.

Northeastern Regional Youth Leadership Conference of the Methodist Youth Fellowship was held at the college July 19 to 28. There were about 90 Methodist youth leaders, together with their advisors and counselors.

Reverends Gould and Picht Represent Lycoming College

The following will illustrate the fact that the early history of Lycoming College goes back to the very early days of our country. At the Centennial Commencement of the College of the Pacific in Stockton, California, Lycoming was represented by The Reverend William H. Gould, who is pastor of the Methodist Church in Chico, California. He was eighth in line in the procession.

At the Boston University Commencement and the Inauguration of the president, Dr. Harold Case, Lycoming was represented by The Reverend Dr. Herbert Picht, Lycoming College chaplain. Dr. Picht was tenth in line in the procession.

The position of the representative of the institution is determined by the date of founding of the institution.

Living Endowment

One of the important actions taken at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association was the endorsement of the Living Endowment Plan.

This gives everyone an opportunity to help financially with the problems of the college. Literature is being prepared and the whole program will be launched shortly. You'll be hearing from Mr. Kenneth Himes, treasurer, in the very near future. We hope this initial attempt to get this plan before our alumni will receive a very hearty and enthusiastic response. Thank you.

He was a member of the 23rd Infantry Regiment, Second Division. He is the son of Police Lt. Clifford A. Pfleegor and Mrs. Pfleegor of Williamsport, Pa.

MEMORIALS

The new library offers many splendid opportunities for suitable memorials for those who would like to contribute to the college and honor at the same time friends or memorialize departed loved ones. The building itself is one of the finest and most attractive on the campus. Situated as it is on the East side, at a slight elevation, it adds beauty and dignity to the campus. Any memorial in this building will be a lasting tribute to those for whom the memorials are named. The following is a list of rooms suggested as suitable memorials with the cost for the same. Will any who are interested please get in touch with President Long for further details.

FACULTY NOTES

Miss Mary Jane Marley, assistant professor of secretarial studies at Lycoming College, is teaching at the Pennsylvania State College this Summer in the Air Force clerk-typist program. She will also instruct in military correspondence. The courses being taught by Miss Marley will continue for 12 weeks.

Miss Doris Coombs, instructor in Secretarial Science is attending the Summer Session at Penn State.

Art instructors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Vickers, are spending their summer vacation in Europe. They left New York City on June 11 for Italy and France. Mr. Vickers will study at the Academie Julian in Paris in the school of painting, drawing, and composition. The work will be applied to his doctorate.

The 1951 Arrow was dedicated to Walter G. McIver, associate professor of voice. The dedication reads: "The Arrow staff is proud to dedicate this edition to Walter G. McIver, associate professor of voice at Lycoming College. A Westminster graduate, Mr. McIver has not confined his interests to the building of a superb musical Lycoming, but in every respect—is friend, teacher, and consultant—he has spent tireless hours in helping to build a college of which all graduates can be justly proud. Long after other college memories have been obscured, the memory of this sincere man will remain."

Mr. Robert F. Smith, Director of Athletics and basketball coach and Mr. John P. Graham, assistant professor of English, are attending the Summer Session at the Pennsylvania State College.

Alumni Council Picnic

Members of the Alumni Council and their families were guests of Miss Martha V. Slate, Miss Anne Slate, Mrs. Edward Lyon, Mrs. George Slate and George Slate, III, at the Slate Cabin "Nippennucci" on Sunday afternoon and evening, July 8. A buffet tureen dinner was enjoyed followed by a songfest conducted by Mr. Walter G. McIver. This was followed by a meeting of the Alumni Council at which important business was conducted.

It was a delightful occasion and started the Alumni work of the new college year off in splendid fashion.
